Hi Quinn,

Jonathan Becker has been the BEAD-BAB rep for this. He is out this week and asked me to sit in. I provided comments late, but I did add some (some were in response to Amber's comments so I am cc'ing her so that she knows that I provided some feedback, although late). I don't know that you need to worry about adding my comments at this point, but there may be some useful information in their for later. Sorry to contribute so late in the game, but I just came back from a detail and helping out where I can. Hopefully, Jonathan agrees with my comments, but I am happy to discuss if you have any questions.

Again, apologies for the lateness of the comments.

Thanks
Kelly

Good Afternoon All,

I look forward to discussing the treated seed petition briefing paper with all of you tomorrow. I am including a link below to the updated treated seed petition briefing paper and attaching the petition itself for anybody that would like to dig a little deeper. This briefing paper has become an 11 page document with all of the background and history included for context so in the interest of time we will not be going through it line by line but instead will be focusing on the major points presented. Since this is a 30 minute meeting, if you have a chance to review the document prior to the meeting tomorrow that would be greatly appreciated.
